Science	Working Scientifically Links to the statutory programme of study: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can they ask simple questions, recognising that they can be answered in different ways? • Can they observe closely, using simple equipment? • Can they identify and classify? • Can they use their observations and ideas to suggest answers to questions? Non-statutory notes & guidance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can they contrast and make comparisons between different animals on the basis of: *observable features? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> *how they move? *what they eat? *where they live? *...? • Can they identify 'rules' for grouping and identifying animals? e.g. in a game scenario Some topics require children to 'make observations and notice changes over time. The provision for these topics often requires an earlier start than the term which has been designated for delivery. In year 1 those topics are: Seasonal changes, plants & animals. This topic requires planning for making observations throughout the school year. A suggested learning journey re making observations over time is: Set up observations early on during the school year by showing the children a couple of photos or a You Tube video, illustrating the effects of the passing of time in relation to the focus phenomena e.g. two pictures of the school grounds, one taken during late autumn and the other in late spring. Use these as the basis for a session raising scientific questions to be investigated. With the children's involvement, identify 2 or 3 questions to focus upon to explore further. Designate a display board on which to capture observations over a period of time e.g. throughout the school year. Collect observations, children's drawings and observation notes (e.g. of birds and animals seen) and photographs throughout the year and display these on the display board in sequence. Involve the children in collecting the data/observations relating to the phenomena to investigate, contrast and compare, noting the significant changes. Pull together observations/learning in order to determine what has been found in relation to the children's initial questions. Mini plenaries could be held towards the end of each term noting any significant changes throughout the previous half term and prompting children to wonder about/predict what will happen next.

	Revisit Seasonal Change- summer Animals <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can they point out some of the differences between different animals? • Can they identify and name a variety of common animals? (birds, fish, amphibians, reptiles, mammals) • Can they create their own criteria/rules for classifying a group of different animals and apply them consistently when sorting? • Can they identify and name a variety of common animals that are carnivores, herbivores and omnivores? • Can they compare the bodies of different animals? • Can they name the parts of an animal's body? • Can they name a range of domestic animals? • Can they classify animals by what they eat? (carnivore, herbivore, omnivore) • Can they compare the bodies of different animals?
History (This is part of the art curriculum, so is to be taught in art lessons.)	Possible starting point / stimulus: A visit to a significant place e.g. St Paul's Cathedral Important people who influenced our past Know about the lives of significant individuals in the past who have contributed to national and international achievements. For example: architects e.g. Sir Christopher Wren, John Nash [Buckingham Palace, Regents Street, Park Crescent – Regents Park, St James' Park] Sir Horace Jones [Guildhall, Leadenhall Market, Smithfields Market] law & order [Robert Peel, Bow Street Runners, Elizabeth Fry], writers [Charles Dickens, Shakespeare], travellers [Christopher Columbus, Sir Francis Drake]. Historical Enquiry <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can they raise questions about significant individuals from the past for instance...? • Can they ask and answer questions about old and new objects? • Can they spot old and new things in a picture? • Can they identify the 'clues'/characteristics which they use to identify the order of events/objects? • Can they answer questions using a range of artefacts/ photographs provided? • Can they give a plausible explanation about what an object was used for in the past? • Can they find out more about a famous person from the past and carry out some research on him or her?
Geography	Possible starting point / stimulus: A visit to a museum / A story about a local person/event from the past The Local Area: Visit to Museum of Docklands –Mudlarks <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can they relate the impact of the river Thames upon industry/activity in the area? And what about now? How has that changed? • Can they explain how their local area was different in the past? (Docklands) • Can they describe a locality using words and pictures? • Can they use aerial photos to find key landmarks of the local area? • Can they name key human features associated with a town, e.g. 'church', 'shop', 'house'? • Can they name key physical features associated with the area e.g. river? • Can they devise a simple map for their local area? • Can they begin to use simple compass directions (North, South, East and West)? • Can they tell someone their address? • Can they name different jobs that people living in their area might do? Geographical Enquiry <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can they say what they like about their locality? • Can they sort things they like and don't like? • Can they think of a few relevant questions to ask about a locality? • Can they answer some questions using different resources, such as books, the internet and atlases? • Can they answer questions about the weather? • Can they keep a weather chart? • Can they answer questions using a weather chart? • Can they make plausible predictions about what the weather may be like later in the day or tomorrow?
E-safety	Knowledge & understanding Can they understand the different methods of communication (e.g. email, online forums etc)? Do they know you should only open email from a known source? Do they know the difference between email and communication systems such as blogs and wikis? Do they know that websites sometimes include pop-ups that take them away from the main site? Do they know that bookmarking is a way to find safe sites again quickly? Can they begin to evaluate websites and know that everything on the internet is not true?

	Do they know that it is not always possible to copy some text and pictures from the internet? Do they know that personal information should not be shared online? Do they know they must tell a trusted adult immediately if anyone tries to meet them via the internet? Skills Can they follow the school's safer internet rules? Can they use the search engines agreed by the school? Can they act if they find something inappropriate on line or something they are unsure of (including identifying people who can help; minimising screen; online reporting using school system etc)? Can they use the internet for learning and communicating with others, making choices when navigating through sites? Can they send and receive email as a class? Can they recognise advertising on websites and learn to ignore it? Can they use a password to access the secure network?
