

If I Were Prime Minister...

If I were Prime Minister, I would shrink the differentials between the higher paid and the lower paid. I would create tax incentives to give money away to the arts and education especially. I would call for a full-scale nationwide programme to create youth clubs- centres for young people to gather safely and actively do things. I would also invest into developing more spaces for children to play. I would take measures to help homeless and vulnerable people. I would provide much more than just a roof and enable people to move on and lead independent lives. I would take affective measures to reduce food wastage. I would pass laws that would successfully achieve the global fossil fuel reduction target and develop alternative energy sources.
