

10 September 1940

On the 10 September 2020, KS2 pupils at Hallsville Primary remembered the 10th September 1940.

It was 80 years ago that Hallsville Primary was bombed during ww2.

Nobody knows how many lives were lost. The school at the time was being used as a refuge for families in Canning Town.

73 deaths were actually reported but it is understood that between 400 - 600 lives were lost.

Pupils marked this event by studying their history and creating crosses to mark out the number of presumed deaths.

Agate Momentum Trust's leader Ms Edge reported: 'The Trust's name honours the history of East London, Canning Town. The name 'Agate' comes from the street where the school once stood which no longer exists.

Agate Momentum Trust: 'Striving to provide a world class educate to create world class citizens.'
